YOUR WEDDING GUIDE · LOS ANGELES, ORANGE COUNTY & THE WORLD

Big love. Ugly crying. Epic dance floors.

WELCOME

Wedding photos that feel exactly the way your day felt.

I'm Edna, and for over 30 years I've been photographing real life with a little magic. So grab a matcha (or coffee, or wine, no judgment) and let me walk you through how I work, what my couples say, and the collection made for your day.

LET'S BE HONEST FOR A SEC

Almost every couple I meet starts with the same confession: "We're SO awkward in photos."

Maybe you hate how you look in pictures. Maybe your fiancé would rather get a root canal than pose. Maybe you're scared the day will fly by and you'll have nothing that actually looks like you.

Take a breath. You're in the right place. Awkward is my favorite starting point.

HOW I PHOTOGRAPH YOUR DAY

I don't believe in stiff posing. I believe in you, being unapologetically you.

Real life, a little magic

The happy tears, the belly laughs, grandma on the dance floor. I catch it as it happens, then add the artistry.

Gentle direction

I'll tell you exactly where to stand and what to do with your hands, so you never feel lost, and never look posed.

Light & artistry

Three decades of knowing how light falls, plus artistic retouching that polishes without changing who you are.

Real connection

Empathy, humor and zero judgment. By the end of the night, my couples feel like they've known me forever.

Hi, I'm Edna!

I believe in LOVE. All caps. No apologies.

I picked up my first camera when I was about nine years old and never put it down. Over 30 years later I've photographed weddings, quinceañeras, newborns and families all over Southern California, and I've spent more than 20 years teaching other photographers how to do it too.

When I'm not shooting, you'll find me hunting for vintage tin robots, playing Mississippi Delta blues a little too loud, and driving a little too fast. (I'm working on it. Kind of.)

THE PART OF MY STORY I DON'T SKIP

I've struggled with my weight my whole life. So I know the insecurities.

I know what it's like to dodge the camera. To stand in the back row. To untag yourself before anyone else sees the photo. To spend a day you were supposed to love worrying about your arms.

A few years ago I had bariatric surgery, and it changed more than my body. It changed how I see myself, and how I see every single person who steps in front of my lens.

Here's what I know now: I ROCK whatever my weight is. And so do you. You deserve to be treated special on your wedding day, and you deserve photos you're proud to hang on your wall.

every body deserves beautiful photos

SIZE 2 OR SIZE 22

You'll get the same care, the same tricks, and the same magic.

Every bride wants to look her best. Over the years I've built a whole toolkit for flattering real bodies, and I use it for everyone:

- Angles and chin placement that make everyone look their best
- A little room around the waist, every time
- Bouquets, veils, hair and sleeves styled to work for you
- Gentle retouching that smooths a few lumps and bumps and still looks like you

PICTURE THIS

A few weeks after the wedding, your gallery lands in your inbox...

01

You scroll, and scroll, and realize you don't want to delete a single one.

02

You post them without a second thought. Your mom asks for prints of everything.

03

Decades from now, someone you love opens your album and sees exactly how happy you were.

"One day, these photos will be how your grandchildren meet you: young, wildly in love, and laughing like nobody was watching."

And Krystal & Tyler? They changed their wedding date just so Edna could photograph it.

The cake gets eaten. The flowers fade. The dress goes in a box. Only your photographs are forever.

Wedding photographers in LA and Orange County typically charge anywhere from $3,000 to $10,000+, with the LA average around $5,000. My collections start at $2,500, with three decades of experience behind every frame and payment plans to make it work.

"We didn't have a big budget for our wedding but we did make it happen to have the best photographer."

GOOD QUESTIONS

The things couples ask me before they book.

Do you only photograph plus-size brides?

Nope! I photograph every body. My own story just means I know how to make everyone feel comfortable and look amazing.

Can we pay over time?

Yes! Payment plans are available, so your photos never have to be the thing you cut.

How soon will we see our photos?

My couples regularly tell me their photos arrived sooner than they expected, in a private online gallery that's easy to download and share.

We're really awkward on camera. Is that okay?

More than okay. I'll guide you every step of the way, and your engagement session is the perfect warm-up.

Which collection should we choose?

Most of my couples choose the Signature: it covers your whole day and includes the engagement session and album. Smaller celebration? The Intimate is perfect.

Do you travel?

Travel throughout Southern California is included in every collection, and I'm available for destination weddings worldwide.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT
